Sheriff plans lay-offs to repair budget woes

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson is laying off some of his department's employees due to budget problems.

Peterson contends that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors did not agree to fund his full budget request and are accusing him of overspending.

Board President Ronald Cuevas, however, believes Peterson's alleged overspending is a consistent problem from year to year and says that the board has no extra money to give him to make up for it.

County comptroller Ken Walker explained that Peterson has a budget of $622,000 for his department; that figure does not include the jail or the county farm, which are on separate budgets, but pays for only the day-to-day operations of the department itself.

Peterson said he originally requested $686,000 and pared it down to $653,000 before submitting it to the board.

He said the supervisors never met with him prior to approving the budget and the $622,000 figure, stating that it is not enough money on which to operate his department.

Cuevas said Peterson was about $35,000 over the amount budget and stating that there is no money available to make up for overspending this year.

"Last year he was $110,000 over, but we had money to give him. This year we didn't have it," Cuevas said.

Peterson reacted by announcing lay-offs of 13 of his 18 auxiliary deputies and cut-backs from full- to part-time work for two of his five full-time dispatchers. The lay-offs are to become effective Feb. 16.

"These lay-offs are totally political," Cuevas commented. "He's using the employees to try to pressure us into giving him more money."

"All we advised the sheriff of was that he had to be within his budget. We have no authority over how he does it."

Under state law, the supervisors can approve only a blanket sum for the sheriff's department, with the sheriff left to use it as he sees fit. Other departments must have addition or deletion of employees and other expenditures approved by the board.

he should have spent during the first four months of the year.

That violated a directive the board issued to all its department heads last month, ordering them to stay within the

Weather slows progress of new Hancock School

BY D.C. HARVILL

Because construction has been slowed by bad weather, Hancock County's new junior/senior high school may not be ready for the fall school session as planned.

"We've had enough (bad) weather so far that it is going to be tight," said project manager Nat Nixon with Lincoln Builders, the construction firm building the school.

Rain does not completely stall work on the school but "we lose a lot of critical work," Nixon told the Hancock County School Board Monday evening.

According to Nixon, the main concern at this time is getting up the school's metal roofs and block walls.

The current lack of an adequate water supply at the construction site could be a future stumbling block if the situation is not alleviated soon, Nixon said.

"In a couple months, we're going to have to have water and I don't mean a trickle," he said.

Unless it draws water from its own well, the school is legally bound to tie into the water system owned and operated by the Kiln Fire and Water District, within whose boundaries it is located.

When occupied, a minimum of 300 gallons per minute will be required to adequately serve the school during peak usage periods. Since Kiln's system can deliver a maximum of only 124 gallons per minute, a holding tank and a pump will be necessary at the school site to meet the minimum requirement.

The complete system, including the tank, pump and pipe to connect to one of the district's existing water lines, will cost $38,000, according to Board Attorney Joseph Gex.

The school district is attempting to get authorization from the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission to temporarily tie into its water system at Stennis Industrial Airpark, adjacent to which the school is being built.

An initial attempt to temporarily connect with the park's water supply was met with threats of legal action by the fire and water district.

"The fire and water district now have agreed to raise no red flags to the temporary use of Port and Harbor's water," Gex said.

Friday funeral set for longtime sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr.

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Funeral services will be held on Friday for former Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr.

Ladner died at his Bay St. Louis residence Tuesday night.

SYLVAN J. LADNER JR.

A visitation will be held at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis, from 7 to 11 p.m. tonight with a rosary at 8:30 p.m.

Burial will follow on Friday following a 11 a.m. mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Bay St. Louis.

Eight of the 16 years Ladner served as sheriff also included the office of tax collector.

Prior to being sheriff, he served as a Bay St. Louis City Commissioner for seven years after being elected in July 1948.

Ladner was first elected sheriff in 1955 for the years of 1956-59, defeating the late Gerald V. Price Sr. in a run-off. Price was later elected Hancock County sheriff and tax collector.

Ladner was elected a second time in 1963 for the years of 1964-67, defeating H. (Bully) Zengering in a run-off. Zengering was later elected as a Hancock County supervisor.

During Ladner's first two terms as sheriff and tax collector, an incumbent could not succeed himself.

The office of sheriff and tax collector was split for Hancock County and Ladner was elected sheriff in 1971 for the years of 1972-75, winning in a run-off with James A. (Jim) Ladner.

Ladner was re-elected as sheriff in 1975 in a run-off race with Earl (Buck) Ladner for the term of 1976-79. Buck Ladner had previously served as a Hancock County justice of the peace and at the time he ran against Sylvan Ladner was serving as Hancock County's state representative.

The native of Bay St. Louis was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan J. Ladner Sr. His father had served 17 years as a city secretary and city commissioner of Bay St. Louis.

Ladner was also employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad (CSX Railroad) for 18 years as a clerk-agent.

The former sheriff is survived by his wife, the former Mary Helen Bourgeois of Waveland, five children and six grandchildren.

A graduate of St. Stanislaus, Ladner was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and had memberships in the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Association, Bay-Waveland Gun & Rod Club, St. Stanislaus Sideline Club and the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club.

A complete obituary appears on Page 2-A of this issue.

Authorities seek clues to break-in incidents

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County authorities are still seeking solutions to break-ins at three houses on Bayou LaCroix Road, all owned by members of the same family.

Some time between 6 p.m. Sunday and 5 a.m. Monday, someone pried the lock off the gate at the entrance to a farm owned by Michael White and Terry White on Bayou LaCroix Road near Highway 90.

Whoever got into the farm broke into two houses on the property, Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda stated. Stolen were nine guns, a microwave, a videorecorder, a vacuum cleaner and three Honda three-wheelers.

The residents of the houses, which were also vandalized, were away at the time. The owners are offering a reward of $2,000 for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons involved in the crime, which will include charges of grand larceny and burglary if the perpetrators can be arrested and prosecuted, Hoda added.

A similar break-in occurred about a week earlier at the home of a relative, Hunter White, whose property is located on the other side of the bayou. Hoda said the two crimes are being investigated for a possible connection.

Hoda is in charge of the investigations.

Carter seeks reelection to school trustee board

L.D. "Danny" Carter Sr. has announced his candidacy for reelection to the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board.

Carter, 41, is employed as a police officer with the City of Waveland. He was elected to the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board of Trustees in 1985.

A native of Grenada, he is a graduate of Chalmette High School and attended St. Bernard Community College and Hinds Junior College.

had $69,000 for the auxiliary deputies' pay. Cuevas explained that the auxiliaries are paid $5 per hour, but other departments, including the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments and the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, use volunteer auxiliaries who are not paid.

Cuevas contends the money could have been used to bring the regular employees up to the same pay standards comparable to other departments. The supervisor said Hancock County deputies are currently the lowest in the area.

Cuevas has only been in office for three years, during which no other department has had lay-offs.

In addition, he said the only other department which had overspent, road and bridge maintenance, was only slightly out of line and will be back on budget within a month without resorting to lay-offs.

The lay-offs "indicate something is wrong if this has to be done," Cuevas added.

Peterson said he feels the lay-offs will reduce the quality of service the public gets because patrols will have to be cut back from three cars during peak hours to two cars.

Response time will also be cut, particularly in the rural sections of northern Hancock County.

Beginning Oct. 16, the practice of having two dispatchers on duty during peak hours to answer telephones, operate radios and handle computers will be discontinued.

Peterson also expects the situation to affect a substation at Standard which is operated for the convenience of northern county residents and officers.

He said Cuevas is saying that people in the outlying areas of the county are less important than staying on budget.

Another problem the sheriff anticipates from the lay-offs is a safety hazard to officers, because they will no longer have an auxiliary riding with them. There is more danger to an officer riding alone, he said.

Peterson hopes to retain some of the auxiliaries as volunteers, but has no plans for that yet. He said employee reaction to the lay-offs has been negative, as expected.

"It is obvious I do not feel the board is receptive to law enforcement in this county," the sheriff stated. "I think this is something that has been building up in the budget for years."

He added that the jail and farm, with their separate budgets, have not been affected by the cutbacks. The jail, which returns more than $500,000 per year in funds generated by the housing of federal prisoners, actually makes a profit, he added.

Another reaction to the supervisors' demands, given to Peterson in a workshop Monday at about noon, is his determination to get into the details of his budget.

He said a number of items for the jail and farm have been charged to his department and the amounts have never been credited after corrections.

In addition, NASA gives the department $25,000 per year for patrolling the buffer zone and that money is returned to the county. Peterson believes it should come back to his department.

Cuevas said he feels the matter will continue to get more political.

"We knew this would be a struggle, that it will be a battle," he said. "We knew that when we drew the line."

ing project.

If wetlands mitigation permits have to be obtained for any of the property involved in the acquisition, the process could take considerably longer and become more expensive, Cuevas added.

The road, for which the county has obtained grant funding to cover part of the paving costs, is presently closed on the west side, with the closed area beginning at Highway 607 and extending about one mile.

According to County Maintenance Superintendent Sam Cuevas, the road has been rendered impassible in that area because someone apparently grated the center out of the roadway during a dirt-hauling operation.

The gravel was pushed off the road surface and subsequent rains changed the road into a mudhole, Cuevas said. The roadbed surface was destroyed and will have to be rebuilt.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is time for folks to get their "walking shoes" ready for the annual Mardi Gras parades within the next few weeks.

Mardi Gras is kicked off in the area with the 24th annual Krewe of Nereids parade set for Sunday, February 18 in the Waveland-Bay St. Louis area.

Nereids' floats are followed by the Krewe of Eros and Krewe of Hancock. It is a very popular annual event. The following Saturday at noon on February 24 will be the Land and Sea parades at Diamondhead.

Pass Christian's annual parade is scheduled for Sunday, February 25.

Mardi Gras day is celebrated in Bay St. Louis with the Krewe of Real People parade.

The Annual Krewe of Kids parade, in the Cedar Point area, is scheduled for Saturday, February 17.

The Krewe of Kids parade includes bicycles, wagons, canoes on wheels, in addition to marchers, but no motorized vehicles.

As you can see, February is a time for many parades in our area.

I hope to see you at the parades.

The Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District will be distributing free trees on February 12 and 13.

The free trees will be available at the Soil Conservation office on Highway 603, Kiln from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 8 a.m. to noon at the Mississippi Forestry Commission's office on Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis on both days.

As most of you know, Arbor Day is celebrated during the month of February, and it is important for land owners to plant trees.

Autumn olive, water oak, sycamore and persimmon trees will be available in limited numbers on a first come, first served basis.

The National Arbor Day Foundation will be giving out free white flowering dogwood trees to each person who plants during the month of February.

Dogwood trees are among the popular flowering varieties in this area.

A person wanting to receive the ten free dogwoods can send $10 for a membership to: Ten Dogwoods, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410 by Feb. 28.

I hope many residents will add to our community's beauty by planting trees during the month of February.

The search is on for Mississippi's finest

Across the state this time of year, Mississippi's school systems are in gear, and a search is on for high school seniors.

The search is on for Mississippi's finest—Mississippi's STAR Students.

Each year's top 25 high schools help to select the best part in the Mississippi Economic Council-sponsored STAR Student Program. The program, now more than a quarter-century old, is designed to encourage academic excellence among high school students and to recognize students who excel academically.

STAR, which means Student Teacher Achievement Recognition—designation is based on American College Test scores and classroom performance measured in terms of class average.

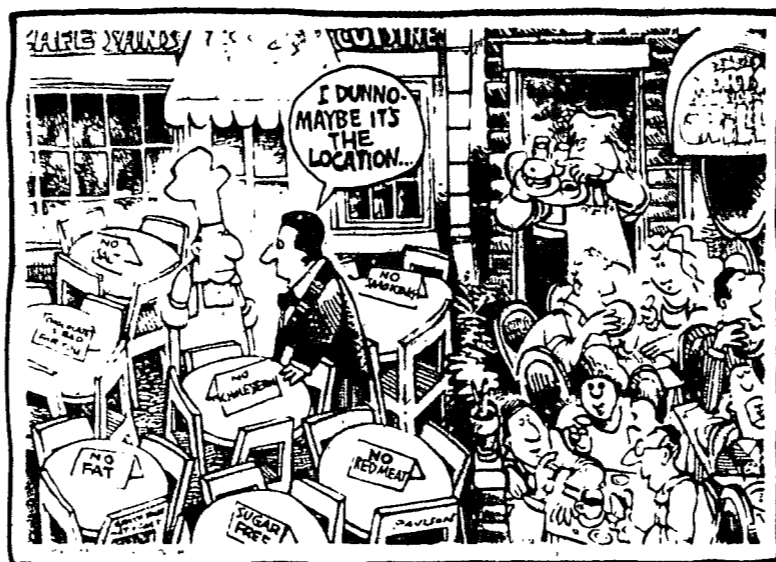

One STAR Student is selected in each participating high school, and the STAR Student then selects his or her STAR Teacher.

A highlight of the STAR Student celebration is the recognition by the Council of the state's ALL-STAR Scholars and the awarding of scholarships to these top 20 STAR students.

There is, also, the recognition of Mississippi's top ALL-STAR Scholar each year, recognition awarded at the Mississippi Economic Council's annual membership meeting in April.

Mississippi's STAR Students of 1990, as in every year, are among Mississippi's finest.

Mississippians will want to add their congratulations as the STAR Students are identified in all the participating school districts in the weeks ahead.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

by Sen. Vic Franckiewicz Jr.

Some 289 bills have survived committee process

The Senate is presently in the process of taking action on the 289 bills which survived the committee process. All bills which receive Senate approval go on to the House of Representatives for consideration.

Some of the many issues which we addressed this week include elections, homestead exemption, AIDS, a state transportation department and waste disposal.

Election Laws

Changes in the election law which passed the Senate would allow a person who is to be out of his county of residence on election day for any reason to vote by absentee ballot.

This would allow voters who will be on vacation during an election to vote absentee. The bill also would allow voters who cannot enter the polling place or stand in line because of a physical handicap or age to vote in their vehicle outside the polling place.

Homestead Exemption

Another bill which we approved would eliminate the requirement that you file a homestead application each year in order to receive the homestead exemption, provided that there has been no change in the status of the property.

AIDS

We passed two bills dealing with AIDS. The bill "Mississippi Human Immunodeficiency Virus Services Act of 1990" would require various education programs about AIDS and Hepatitis.

If the bill becomes law, the state Department of Health would develop educational programs and model workplace guidelines for persons with an infection.

The programs would be designed to inform the public and health care workers about how the diseases are transmitted and about prevention. Priority will be given to programs for persons under age 18.

The other AIDS-related bill would authorize the licensure and inspection of hospices for terminally ill. This is designed to address the present AIDS hospices, but the bill is not limited to facilities which take care of AIDS patients; it applies to all facilities which house at least four terminally ill patients.

Transportation

During the state government reorganization last year, establishment of a Department of Transportation was left out. We passed a proposal which would consolidate the Highway Department, Aeronautics Division, part of the Energy and Transportation Board, and the truck scales into a Department of Transportation.

The department would be governed by the three elected Highway Commissioners who would be renamed Transportation Commissioners.

I voted against this legislation because it does not address the political and ethical problems which have historically plagued the current system of elected highway commissioners operating three separate and independent highway districts.

Waste Disposal

The waste disposal bills dealing with solid and hazardous waste were needed basically because of new stringent federal requirements.

One bill sets up a fund from which local governments can borrow money to construct solid waste disposal facilities such as landfills.

Another bill establishes the state policy that industry must try to minimize hazardous waste generated to whatever extent possible with recycling encouraged and disposal the last resort.

The bill also taxes generators of hazardous waste to discourage producing it.

Because some states have refused to accept any more of Mississippi's hazardous waste for disposal, it has become necessary for Mississippi to establish a disposal facility to take care of a critical need of our businesses and industries.

The state will continue to encourage a private firm to build a facility, but if a suitable one has not received a permit by July 1, 1991, the state will pursue siting a facility.

Asbestosis

This district has a number of asbestosis victims. A recent court decision would have prevented them from recovering damages to pay for their medical care and to provide for their families.

To help out, we passed SB 2411. This bill will allow the victims of asbestosis and other latent diseases to be taken care of.

SB 2411 is on its way to the House of Representatives; it is very likely to pass.

Seafood Laws

Several seafood laws were passed by the Senate this week. One bill strengthened the enforcement of seafood laws by requiring a captain to be designated for each vessel and to make the captain responsible for violations by that vessel. Another bill dealt with live bait dealers.

It tightens up the regulation of live bait dealers and restricts each dealer to only one boat. While I believe our seafood laws need work, I voted against this bill because it did not deal with the problem of our live bait camps and the sports fishermen.

The bill (SB 2911) will be worked on more in the House.

Recall of Elected Officials

We passed SB 2078 which provides for voters to petition to recall elected municipal officials. Under current law, there is no way to recall municipal officials, but you can recall county officials.

This bill will give the voters the same rights to recall both municipal and county officials.

I would be glad to hear your views on any issue. You may write to me at the Mississippi State Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215-1018 or call me at 359-3770. On weekends, please call 467-2399.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Please donate blood Wednesday at Bay American Legion

Dear Editor,

The American Red Cross Mobile Unit will be at the American Legion Home, Post 139, Bay St. Louis, on Wednesday, Feb. 14 from 1 to 7 p.m. Our quota for this blood drawing is 100 units.

We know you are aware of the importance to the life and health of our community to have blood available at all times and that to do this we need your help.

Will you please assist by requesting your readers, members of their families and friends who are physically able and 17 years old and older to come in Wednesday, Feb. 14, and donate a unit of blood.

Your assistance in any way to make this a successful and productive drawing will not only be appreciated, but is essential to those who will need this blood.

Give a gift from the heart. Give blood on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14.

Hats off to Mississippians

To the Editor,
Hats off to Mississippians!

The petitions are circulating and getting signed for the right to vote for or against the lottery. Let Jackson know we have finally seen the light and have a voice.

Isn't it about time we stand up and be counted for our rights?

Solution proposed for national debt

Dear Editor,

Once again our President announced a budget which slides us ever deeper in debt, and once again Congress will change the budget adding pet projects and more debt. Is there no way out?

Perhaps this might just work:

Most politicians have two things in common, 1) the desire to be reelected and 2) greed. So let's bribe them to balance the budget and reduce the national debt! After all, that's how the budget got unbalanced...of course, they're politely called campaign contributions.

So, let's tell Congress if they balance the budget and reduce the debt, the U.S. Treasury will pay into a fund 5 percent of every billion dollars of debt reduction. This fund will be equally divided by members of Congress which can be spent on reelection campaigns and/or retirement.

Since greed is the prime motivator of a free economy and everyone is looking for their piece of the pie, then Congress should respond very favorably to this suggestion. At the same time it'd be a bargain. Although 5 percent is lots of money when talking about billions, the interest paid on the debt is much higher (like 7 percent to 13 percent).

Or does anyone have a better idea?

Regards,
Royce P. Kaupp

Mississippi citizens' health commitment at greatest

Our commitment to protect the health of every Mississippian has never been greater than it is today.

One way we can continue to reach our full potential is by reaching out to those in our state who need our help the most.

There is no question about the progress we have made in many areas. We have made great advancements in the area of infant mortality.

In 1983, we took a big step toward meeting this problem when we expanded Medicaid coverage dramatically for pregnant women and infant children.

And we have taken big steps to broaden access to quality health care for the people of Mississippi. Since 1980, almost 100,000 people have become eligible for Medicaid.

This is partly due to this year's $120 million expansion of the program, which nearly 80 percent or $96 million came from federal sources. We've gone far, but not nearly far enough.

We need to keep expanding Medicaid to reach those in need, including children under 21 who desperately need psychiatric care.

But as important as Medicaid is, it cannot cover all of those in need. Every state in the country—including Mississippi—is struggling with how to help the working poor.

We all know the faces of the working poor, the mother and father who make enough to put food on the table and pay their bills, but cannot qualify for Medicaid or pay insurance. All illness or accident can financially destroy that family.

We cannot wait for Washington to come to the rescue. Like so much that we confront in Mississippi today, the answer has to come from within. That is why I support legislation to establish a pilot project to provide health insurance to the working poor.

If this program is successful, hopefully we can provide our working poor an affordable alternative to the dilemma they face today.

The Indigent Care Task Force, which has labored long and hard to devise solutions to a most difficult problem, has recommended, among other things, establishment of an office of health manpower to deal with the crisis in the availability of health care professionals.

And Mississippi's BEST—Better Education for Success Tomorrow—recognizes the link between education and health care in ways that will make a difference for generations to come.

By screening three-year-olds, by authorizing school-based clinics, and working toward adult literacy, we'll take giant steps toward conquering our health care problems.

We must make sure that every Mississippian can get first rate, affordable and necessary health care when they need it. By doing so, we will secure a strong, brighter and healthier future for all Mississippians.

BY D.C. HARVILL
An exhibit of art works by Anna Beasnett and her mother, Elizabeth, is on display at the Pass Christian Public Library until the end of February.
Anna, a senior art history major at The University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., has selected a group of her photographic works for the exhibit.
Elizabeth Beasnett is represented in the exhibit by a series of her recent figure drawings.

MILITARY MENTION

SSGT JONES
Air National Guard Staff Sgt. James H. Jones was graduated from the U.S. Air Force ground communications radio specialist course at Keesler Air Force Base.

Graduates of the course learned to install and maintain high-powered ground communications equipment, and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Jones is the son of Merton L. and Maxine G. Jones of Centre, Ala.
His wife, Sheila, is the daughter of Herbert S. and Ava L. Steube of Pass Christian.

He is a 1979 graduate of Pass Christian High School.

"I take an unconventional and unorthodox approach to figurative drawing. The drawings reveal a private world in which the viewer feels at times like a trespasser peering into another world. These drawings fulfilled an experimental period for me," said Elizabeth Beasnett.

She added that she is very much affected by her surroundings, "the room, the noises, the music...the light, the forces of nature."

Anna Beasnett's black and white photographs present simple, direct compositions which, according to her, arose out of experiences similar to those which inspire her mother.

"I like the simplicity of black and white photography. I really tend to concentrate on nature and the forces of nature.... It is a motif that began appearing in my work over time and I like the results so much that I have concentrated on that," the younger Beasnett said.

A reception for the artists will be 10 p.m. to noon Saturday at the library.

Crime Commission to meet Wednesday

The Mississippi Coast Crime Commission Board of Directors will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 14, 4 p.m. at Merchants Bank & Trust Company employees' meeting room, 1300 25th Avenue, Gulfport.

All board members are requested to attend.

Coast Guard Auxiliary plans a public education class on "Boating Skills and Seamanship."

For seven nights starting at 7 p.m. on Feb. 12, class will be held each Monday through April 2. These classes will be taught at the Diamondhead Community Center.

Thirteen major subjects will be covered. The Safe Way to Boating, Enjoyment, Boating Language and Trailering, Boat Handling, Legal Requirements, Rules of the Road and Aids to Navigation.

Also, Piloting, Marine Machines, Marlinspike Seamanship, Sailing, Weather, Radio Telephone and Locks and Dams.

Completion of the course makes it possible for all to better enjoy their boating experiences, and to do this in a safe manner.

Since the course and text book are strictly in accordance with Coast Guard practices, completion can be the first step toward application for membership in the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

For additional information, contact Milt Parmalee at 255-2098.

Valentine tea to feature artists

BY DENA BISNETTE

A scenic artist and sidewalk portraits will be featured at a Valentine Tea hosted by Serenity Sunday from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Alison Free, who was raised in Long Beach and owned the Third Street Gallery Studio Workshop there before moving to Georgia about a decade ago, has recently returned to the Gulf Coast.

Primarily self-taught, she paints scenes in watercolor but does some work in acrylics and oils as well. Among her favorite subjects are the Bay St. Louis and Ocean Springs coastlines, landscapes and trees.

One of her more unusual offerings is house portraits, a project partially rooted in an interest in historic preservation she developed while living in Georgia.

According to Serenity owner Jerry Dixon, another feature of the tea will be "something special for lovers," a group of artists working on sidewalk sittings for pastel, charcoal and pencil portraits which will be priced from $10 to $35 depending on the media used.

Those artists will include Cherry Wheat, Jean Hammett, Janeal McKey, Joey Griffin, Polly Ammons and James McDaniel.

McDaniel, a Bay St. Louis resident who has also lived in Biloxi and New Orleans, will also be showing his landscapes and abstracts of subjects ranging from "realism to idealism."

He studied art at Austin Community College in Austin, Texas, the Jeff Davis campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and New Orleans Academy of Fine Arts.

Joining the artists' celebration of Valentine's Day will be a number of other local artists whose works range from sculpture to painting and wearable art.

Those scheduled to participate include Alice Moseley, Jeanne Warner, John McDonald, Brenda Randolph, Elizabeth Veglia, Jean Hammett, Vicki Lever and Doris Scarborough.

Also included will be Barbara Brodman, Mary Margaret McQueen, Jan Hutchinson, Dama Fountain, Tommy Heier, Sara Blackwell, Nancy Rupp, David Wallace, J.D. Wilson, Pat Wilson, Hamilton Guenard, Beth Ward, Jai Barkley, E. Morris, Terry Blake Edwards and Kat Fitzpatrick.

Books for sale by the inch at Kiln Library

When you visit the Kiln Library during the next week, bring your ruler, your tape measure, your yardstick, and take home a stack of books for good measure.

The Kiln Library is sponsoring its "Buy By the Inch" used book sale on Feb. 13, 15 and 16 Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. You will be getting some good buys and helping the library in two ways, by making a small donation and by helping to clear some additional space for new books.

Used, discarded and duplicate items will be sold at 50 cents per inch during the library's regular business hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

Proceeds from the book sale will go toward the purchase of new and updated books for the library system.

Located at 16603 Hwy. 603, the Kiln Library is a branch of the Hancock County Library System. Call the library at 253-1724 for more information.

Mesquite tree has value for flavoring, shade, lumber

"It's Better In America" was the title selected by Patrick Mahony for his book which won for him the prestigious Americanism Medal awarded by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mahony, a naturalized citizen, was born in "Old Continent, Ireland" and his book covering such topics as "Going Abroad in California," "Irish America," "The Great Northwest," "Niagara Falls," and "The Seven Wonders of America" is well-written and for the most part accurate.

However he did make an error which should be corrected. On page 53 he states:

"My favorite desert is Death Valley, where the vegetation is of the classic type—thorny bushes, aloes, cactus and mesquite, all useless to man, except an occasional yucca."

It is an established fact that all of these plants mentioned are of very great use to man. From the aloes we get the ingredients widely used in the treatment of burns. The mesquite (pronounced meh-skeet) has many uses.

Every part of the mesquite is used. It is called by the Indians "the tree of life." Its beans can be ground into pulp for making bread or for cattle food, the roots have medicinal properties, there is a flavoring made from the liquid, its chips are used for barbecue smoke. Furniture, flooring, panels, etc. are made from the attractively grained lumber. Of course, trees shelter the livestock.

For local examples of how this tree is used you may visit your local grocery store. In the meat market you will find mesquite-smoked hams and sausage. You will also find an array of mesquite-flavored sauces, including a mouth-watering barbecue sauce.

The mesquite tree does grow in dry climate. The tree is common in the United States and needs little water. But when the tree has plenty of water, it grows into a large tree, 50 to 60 feet high and with a trunk approximately three feet across.

With Arbor Day scheduled for Feb. 9 in our area, it would be of interest if a mesquite tree could be planted in our small, but growing, arboretum.

An after-thought: Here's a bit of advice overheard: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

Practicality exceeds beauty in tree-filled landscape

Trees are such a commonplace part of our environment that it's easy to overlook their vital roles in making our communities and rural areas more livable, pleasant places.

Tree roots grip and hold the topsoil. Leafy tree canopies cool the hot summer sun, conserve moisture, slow the wind, keep the air clean, and help quiet loud traffic noises. And trees create a welcome home for birds and wildlife.

Without trees to hold topsoil in place, gullies can eat their way into pastures and fields—destroying their usability for agricultural purposes and reducing land values.

In addition, silt from eroded hillsides can choke streams, killing fish and destroying wildlife habitat.

Silt deposits raise river beds, making them more likely to flood. Without trees to break its force, the wind finds the exposed topsoil easy pickings.

Carefully placed trees can provide cooling summer shade, protect your home from chilling winter winds, and maximize energy gains from winter sunlight, cutting annual home energy use as much as 20 percent.

As urban and suburban development displaces many birds and animals from their natural habitat, it becomes increasingly important for landowners to provide mini-sanctuaries for wild birds and other forms of wildlife.

The four basic essentials for a natural habitat are cover, food, water and variety in plants species, terrain and transition between plant communities.

A leafy, tree-filled landscape has a beauty that is practical as well. Whether natural or planted, trees provide protection from sun and wind, hold the soil and improve its permeability, as well as providing a living beauty that changes with the season.

(Taken from Conservation Trees, a publication from the National Arbor Day Foundation.

For more information on planting trees contact the Soil Conservation Service in Kiln, 255-3225.

Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District tree-give-away will be Feb. 12-13 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Soil Conservation office located on Hwy. 603, Kiln, and at Mississippi Forestry Commission office in Bay St. Louis off Dunbar Avenue from 8 a.m. to noon on both days.

A limited number of trees are available and they will be given away on first come, first served basis. Trees available are autumn olive, water oak, sycamore and persimmon.

Variety of seedling trees offered by conservation office

Sunday, February 12 is the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln (born Feb. 12, 1809). On that day many Hancock County homeowners plan to celebrate by planting trees provided free by the Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Friendship Oak Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was instrumental in sponsoring a

Van Peski said, "The questions most frequently asked are 'What kind of trees will be available?' 'Where can they be picked up?' 'How many may each person have?' and 'How large are they?'"

One may select from five types of trees, sawtooth oak, bald cypress, green ash, loblolly pine, sycamore and persimmon.

The seedling trees may be picked up on a first come first month. With the wide selection available there really should be something for everyone.

"The persimmon is both decorative and its fruit is delicious. The loblolly pine has fast growth and is known for its thick bark. It makes a nice background for shade-loving shrubs or plants.

"Oaks are much in demand.

The bald cypress also is popular. The sycamore tree is also in demand as a shade-giving tree. Its large leaves serve as nature's umbrella. In the Fall the leaves are a beautiful bronze tone, and the bark peels as the trunk grows. No, this is not the sycamore mentioned in the Bible, but it is true, it grows in every state," Van Peski said.

month-long tree planting project made valid by proclamation signed by Mayor John Longo of Waveland and Mayor Eddie Favre of Bay St. Louis.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Looking for a special way to say "Happy Valentine Day?" Here's a treat that's sure to please a Valentine—"Pinky Party Puffs"—bite-sized cream puffs filled with whipped cream (or whipped topping from the store) mixed with strawberries or strawberry preserve or jam or such.

Cream puffs aren't all that difficult to make, and are a versatile addition to your culinary repertoire, an easy and elegant ending (in this case) at other times, a beginning to a festive meal, depending upon the filling you choose.

Make the filling seafood or meat or cheese, and you have appetizers for cocktail time or as a prelude to dinner; choose a custard or ice cream or other sweet filling—and there's your dessert.

Since it's almost St. Valentine time, let's fill the shells with traditional Valentine-rosy clouds of whipped cream and strawberries, and there's no culinary law that says you can't make fewer, larger puffs if you wish, just drop larger blobs on the baking sheet, and cook a bit longer. Here's:

PETITE PARTY PUFFS

1 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
4 eggs
Dash of salt

Bring the water to a boil, add the butter or margarine, stirring until it melts. Add the flour and salt, stirring and stirring again until the mixture is quite smooth, and makes a soft ball.

Let the mixture cool, just a bit. Start adding the eggs, one at a time, making sure that you beat the mixture well after each addition, and continue beating until it's nice and shiny.

Drop the batter by teaspoonsful onto a lightly greased baking sheet. You should end up with 36 small blobs, more or less, according to how you drop the mixture on the sheet.

Bake at 375 degrees for 40 or 50 minutes, until they look ready—you can tell. Cool, slit, then fill with the sweet mixture of your taste—in this case the whipped cream (sweetened or not, according to your taste and your diet), and whatever strawberry addition you've chosen. If you're feeling truly Valentine-hearted, stick a strawberry atop the filled puff as an extra touch, or dribble jam over.

P.S. Valentine Day notwithstanding, my favorite filling for these puffs, whether large or small size, is homemade vanilla custard with my own chocolate sauce drrenched over, the sauce I discovered when the fudge I was making wouldn't harden one stormy day. Now I eat less fudge and more sauce!

Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs

The Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs will hold its annual Arbor Day celebration at Beauvoir on Friday, Feb. 9 at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Kenneth R. Ernst, president, will preside.

Kicking off the program will be the Diamondhead Academy Singers. Keith Hardison, supervisor of Beauvoir, will offer greetings and will accept the azalea plants donated by each of the 33 garden clubs belonging to the council.

Mrs. O. Z. Culler will give a history of the council's Arbor Day celebration at Beauvoir. Mrs. Linda M. Mahon, Hancock County soil conservationist, will be the main speaker, and following her talk she will distribute trees to all attending.

The Sunkist Garden Club will be the featured club in the presentation. Everyone is invited to attend before or after the ceremonies.

Hancock County Historical Society

The Hancock County Historical Society will meet Thursday, Feb. 15 for a dutch treat at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club at noon.

The program will be "Reminiscence of a Coast Guard Sailor in the Gulf Area in WW II." The speaker will be Bernard E. Eble, chairman of the Memorial Hall committee which supervises the Confederate Museum for the Louisiana Historical Society.

The telephone committee will take reservations; visitors call 467-6109 by Wednesday noon.

Free dogwoods offered

Ten free white flowering dogwood trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during February.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between March 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Ten Dogwoods, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410 by Feb. 28.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1990-1B

TIME OUT

By Dena Bisnette

Is it time for baseball again already? Actually, it's just time to get organized again for the coming summer.

Hancock County did pretty well with baseball and softball last season, with a couple of teams going to play-offs. Let's hope we do as well this year.

Time Out will be printing the notices of baseball meetings as they come in, and here's one of the first ones we've received for 1990:

There will be a joint Little League baseball and girls' softball meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at Bay St. Louis City Hall.

Dates for registration and tryouts will be discussed. Other items on the agenda include opening day ceremonies and the possibility of expanding age groups in both leagues, which are currently open to boys and girls ages five through 18.

Anyone interested in coaching, managing or umpiring should attend. Returning coaches are asked to bring an itemized inventory of their equipment.

For more information, call Layne Bourgeois at 467-2492; Judy Summers, 467-8413; or Michael Lee, 467-5984.

Boys and girls ages 10 to 14 are eligible to compete in the local version of the 1990 Knights of Columbus International Free Throw Championship Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. in the upstairs section of the old St. Stanislaus gymnasium on Beach and Union Street.

Written parental consent and proof of age is required. Winners will progress to a district competition.

For more information, contact Jim Thriffley at 467-4138, your basketball coach or your school office.

There is about a week left to preregister for the second annual Arbor Day 5K Run and One-mile Health Run and Walk in Biloxi.

The race is sponsored by the Environmental Advisors Board, City of Biloxi and McDonalds. It will be hosted by Gulf Coast Running Club and will begin at 9 a.m. at Biloxi City Hall.

For registration information, contact Lindo Sullivan at 832-6701 or Deanne Nuwer at 388-4546.

We also have some run results from the 10K Winter Classic. Local male residents did better in the middle and older divisions of the race on this one, which was Jan. 27 in Long Beach.

In the 35-39 division, David Sawyer placed second with a time of 40:58; while Herbert Smith came in third in the 45-49 with 43:44. Both runners are from Pass Christian.

Bill Morse of Bay St. Louis was the local first place winner this time, picking up a division trophy in the men's 60 and older. His time for the race was 1:00:43.

A charity tennis tournament, this one featuring women's doubles competition, has been organized to benefit Gulf Coast Women's Center, a shelter for victims of domestic violence—and tomorrow is the registration deadline.

The event will be played Feb. 13-16 at Gulfport Racquet Club, with each division scheduled to play on one day only. The first match of each day begins at 9 a.m.

Registration is $25 per team and includes two rounds of play, a complimentary lunch, door prizes and the Friday night awards banquet. Beginners or anyone ranked 2.5, 3.0, 3.5, 4.0, 4.5 and 5.0 may participate.

Contact Gulfport Racquet Club at 896-3554 or any other coast tennis club for more information.

The state rankings are out and several local players are among those on the top teams during 1989.

Myron Labat of Bay St. Louis and Dennis Walker of Moss Point got together for a successful doubles team in the men's 30-35 division, ranking fourth.

In the women's 35-40 division, Cynthia Allen of Pass Christian teamed with Jo Ann LaRochelle of Long Beach, ranking seventh. In the women's 40s, Mary McDonnell of Diamondhead and Elizabeth Watts of Bay St. Louis ranked seventh.

Congratulations to each of these players.

Items for Time Out should be brought to The Sea Coast Echo office by Tuesday afternoon or mailed to P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Short items may be submitted by telephone at 467-5474.

Knights of Columbus to sponsor free throw contest

All boys and girls ages 10 to 14 are invited to participate in the local level of competition for the 1990 Knights of Columbus International Free Throw Championship.

The local competition will be held Saturday, Feb. 10 at 10:30 a.m. at the St. Stanislaus old gymnasium (upstairs) on the Beach at Union Street, Bay St. Louis.

The International Free Throw Championship is sponsored annually by the Knights of Columbus with winners progressing through local, district and state competition.

International champions are announced by Knights international headquarters based on scores from the state level competitions. All boys and girls 10 to 14 years old are eligible to participate and will compete in respective age divisions.

Last year more than 161,000 sharpshooters participated in 2,132 local competitions.

All contestants on the local level are recognized for their participation in this event. Participants will be required to furnish proof of age and written parental consent. For entry forms or additional information, a participant may contact his school coach or Jim Thriffley 467-4138.

The Knights of Columbus is an international, Catholic, family, fraternal service organization with nearly 1.5 million members in 9,000 local councils. In 1988, Knights donated 27 million manhours and $85 million to charitable and benevolent causes, sponsoring programs to benefit their church, councils, communities, families and youth.

Local participants top skate, bicycle competition

BY DENA BISNETTE

Results of Saturday's skateboard and freestyle bicycle competition, sponsored by the Hancock County Recreation Association and hosted by Cycles Plus, show mostly local competitors as winners.

According to results provided by Cycles Plus, the beginner A division skate winners included, first place, Jason Chonevert; second, Ron Altman, Bay St. Louis; and third, Daniel Crowe, Pearlinton.

The top three in beginner B were all from Bay St. Louis and included, in order of finish, Chris Schmidt, Steve Scharp and Jason Irwin.

Intermediate winners were Reese "Binky" Brunner, Pass Christian; Reggie Sevin, Mobile, Ala.; and Chris Cowart, Bay St. Louis.

Will Beyers of New Orleans and Mike Martin and Carlton Kams, both of Gulfport, were the top three in advanced competition.

The contest also attracted several sponsored skaters. Winners in that category were Duane Pitts, Dave Young and James Lapiyade, all Louisiana skaters.

Freestyle bike winners in the beginner division included John Killian, Douglas Farnsworth and Paul Bagdanove.

Carley Capers of Ocean Springs, Elderman Peterman of Bay St. Louis and Ernesto Bennett won the intermediate competition.

Edward Schwall and Scott O'Brien, both of Kenner, La., were the advanced first and second place winners. There was no third place in that category.

The competition was held at Valena C. Jones Gymnasium.

Great Day of Soccer planned for Feb. 17

Area youngsters will be able to test their soccer talents at the Coastwide "Great Day of Soccer."

In its eighth year, the soccer competition is sponsored by the Coast Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Gulfport and the South Mississippi Soccer Club, and will be held Feb. 17 at Milner Stadium in Gulfport.

"The Great Day of Soccer is designed to be an all-around test of a youngster's soccer skills, and still be fun," said Ian Slimmon of the South Mississippi Soccer Club.

The competition consists of five basic tests: the throw-in for distance; long distance kicking; juggling; dribbling, and goal kicking. The skills test should be a challenge for youngsters with soccer experience, but be easy enough for beginners.

More than 1,500 youngsters from the Gulf Coast and Louisiana are expected to compete in this soccer skills contest. The program is being administered by the South Mississippi Soccer Club.

Details on The Great Day of Soccer program are available through local soccer leagues and at the Coast Coca-Cola Company.

Bay, Stanislaus contest to memorialize Necaise

BY DENA BISNETTE

Bay High and St. Stanislaus will dedicate their Friday night basketball game to the memory of the late Joel (Joby) Necaise.

The game is the final one of the season for Bay High and will be played at Bay High. The first game begins at 6:30 p.m.

According to Bay High Coach Michael Ladner, students at both schools were close to Necaise, a 16-year-old sophomore who died from injuries he sustained in a motorcycle accident Feb. 1.

A moment of silence will be offered for him at some point during the game.

Bay High's Friday night game last week was cancelled to allow students to attend a wake for the deceased youth.

At Tuesday's game against Hancock North Central, Tiger players wore black bands on their shoulders to symbolize the loss of their friend and will also do so on Friday, Ladner added.

Bay High lost to Hancock 89-71 Tuesday. Mark Scharp with 17 points led the scoring for Bay High, followed closely by Will Seymour with 16 and David Weems with 14.

Micah Necaise contributed nine points, including one three-point basket. James Mayfield added eight points, Tommy Bergeron contributed five and Calvin Thigpen added two.

Mayfield led the Tigers in rebounds with seven, Scharp had six and Seymour added five.

David Weems was credited with five assists.

Ike Majors topped Hancock's scoring with 25 points. Leo Ackner was a close second with 23, followed by Regan Ladner with 21, Dorian Acker and Ryan Ladner with nine each and Maurice Payne with two.

Ryan Ladner was credited with seven rebounds and Regan Ladner and Dorian Acker had five each.

Regan Ladner also contributed five steals.

JACKIE ODOM, a 17-year-old Bay High senior, is a competitor for the Dixie National Rodeo Queen title. She has already completed a one-to-one interview with judges and modeling a T formation in western attire sponsored by B and B Western Store of Picayune. Riding competition for rodeo queen candidates consist of a horsemanship pattern to show the contestant's ability to ride and control the horse. Odom's sponsor for that segment of the contest is Elliott's Shoe and Boot Rebuilder of Waveland.

Heart benefit golf festival now accepting registration

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Heart Association is now accepting entries for its sixth annual Golf Festival, which has been set for April 21 at Diamondhead Country Club's Cardinal Course.

Entry deadline is April 14. Participants will have their choice of a shotgun start at either 8 a.m. or 1 p.m., but the field will be limited to the first 60 teams entering.

According to Marge Kasper, assistant chairperson for the event, invitations are being mailed to golfers who have participated in previous tournaments and to members of area country clubs.

The $60 per player entry fee is a tax-deductible contribution to the Hancock County Heart Association and includes green fee and half a cart fee. In addition, participants will receive a free five-by-seven color photograph and refreshments on the golf course.

Two special prizes for holes-in-one have been donated for the festival, including a Mercury Topaz from the Bubba Oustalet dealership in Gulfport and a round trip for two from New York to Copenhagen from Scandinavian Airlines.

After the tournament, awards and door prizes will be presented at a lawn party hosted by Mac and Emma Casse, 7797 Golf Club Drive, across from Cardinal's 18th green. The social is open to non-participants for a $10 donation.

Registration information should include names, address, handicaps and telephone numbers of each team member and should indicate if players wish to be paired with another entry.

Registration and fees should be mailed to Herb Larson, 6838 Hilo, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

For more information, contact Steve Planchard, festival chairman, at 255-2660.

Fishermen want license, more management programs

Most Mississippi recreational saltwater fishermen want some sort of recreational saltwater fishing license, according to results of a Bureau of Marine Resources survey.

The Mississippi saltwater sport fishermen's attitude and Opinion Survey shows that 62 percent of the saltwater recreational fishermen responding to the survey would buy a license to fish in Mississippi coastal waters, provided that the money be used for management programs to enhance saltwater fishing.

Now recreational fishermen don't have to buy a license to fish in saltwater. A bill before the state legislature seeks to mandate that all fishermen, including saltwater fishermen, buy a license to fish in any state water.

The bill would raise the state fishing license fee from $4 to $8, with an appropriate portion of the fee going for saltwater fishing programs.

Dr. Fred Deegen, BMR systems analyst who analyzed the survey, said responding fishermen listed a stocking program for speckled trout and redfish, increased law enforcement and construction of near shore fishing reefs as the most-needed fishing enhancement projects.

In answering the survey, fishermen said they thought people under the age of 15 and over the age of 65 should be exempt from buying a fishing license.

The survey, which began on Oct. 1 and ended in December, marked the bureau's first attempt at understanding recreational fishermen.

"We've had a creel survey, but that just gives us catch data. Managing a fishery is more than just understanding fish. You have to understand fishermen too," Deegen said. "This survey gives us a profile of the average fishermen."

To obtain information for the survey, Deegen distributed 2,065 questionnaires. Of these, 90 percent were mailed to registered boat owners, and 10 percent were handed out to pier and wade fishermen.

Deegen said the survey has helped formulate the following profile of the average Mississippi recreational saltwater fisherman:

The average coastal fisherman in Mississippi is about 50 years old, has a household income of about $40,000, has lived in Mississippi 31 years, has fished in saltwater for 30 years and goes fishing about 38 times a year.

The average saltwater fisherman fishes to relax, get away from it all, be close to the sea and enjoys catching fish with family and friends.

The majority of recreational saltwater fishermen say they just enjoy fishing and bring their catch home to eat. Club, trophy and competitive recreational fishermen are in the minority.

Most fishermen admit that they are happier when they catch fish, but consider it a good fishing trip even if they come home fishless.

While the Big Three—speckled trout, redfish and flounder—are the most favored species among recreational fishermen, most fishermen say they are happiest when they catch variety of fish.

The average fisherman relies heavily on word-of-mouth comments from other fishermen to help him pursue his sport. He relies the least on radio, television and magazines for helpful fishing information.

Yankees pitcher to headline free baseball clinic at SMH

New York Yankees Pitcher Kevin Mmahat will headline a state of sports medicine specialists presenting a free baseball clinic on Saturday, Feb. 10.

Sponsored by Shidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center's Sports Medicine and Fitness Center, the clinic will provide an overview on baseball training.

The clinic will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Shidell High School and is open to players, coaches and interested spectators.

Mackie Shilstone, nationally recognized strength and conditioning expert, will address the latest training techniques utilized by baseball coaches, from the youth league to the professional.

Shilstone is a well-known speaker, having appeared on national television and worked with professional athletes as diverse as heavyweight champion Michael Spinks, center Manute Bol of the NBA Washington Bullets and San Francisco Giants first baseman Will Clark.

Scott Belham, ATC, coordinator of the Sports Medicine and Fitness Center at SMH, will speak on "Preventing Sports Injury and Illness."

Finally Mmahat will field questions from the audience on topics of interest, ranging from his experiences as a professional baseball player to his personal advice in avoiding sports-related injuries.

Space is limited for this program, therefore those wishing to attend are requested to contact the Sports Medicine Center at (504) 649-8651. Door prizes will be awarded.

Strength.

When you look for a bank you look for strength and capability. Backed up by the facts and supported by the numbers.

Here are a few simple facts, followed by some hard, cold numbers, about Eastover Bank:

• Eastover Bank has over $30 million in net worth, which is nearly double federal regulatory requirements under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP).

• Eastover Bank has one of the highest capital ratios among all Mississippi financial institutions.

• Eastover Bank is certified by the Treasurer's Office of the State of Mississippi as a depository of public funds.

• Eastover Bank's assets in excess of $500 million place it among the state's 10 leading institutions in banking capability.

Bay St. Louis Architecture

City has notable styles

BY D.C. HARVILL

The primary function of a house is to provide shelter but many go beyond that minimum expectation, appealing to human aesthetics and constituting a statement on the part of the builder and the culture at the time of construction.

Most people know which houses they find attractive but they may not be able to pinpoint why. When asked about notable proportion, knew exactly why his choices merited mention.

Several years ago, when asked to do a presentation on notable architecture in Bay St. Louis, he selected and photographed those structures he believed fit the rather nebulous criteria.

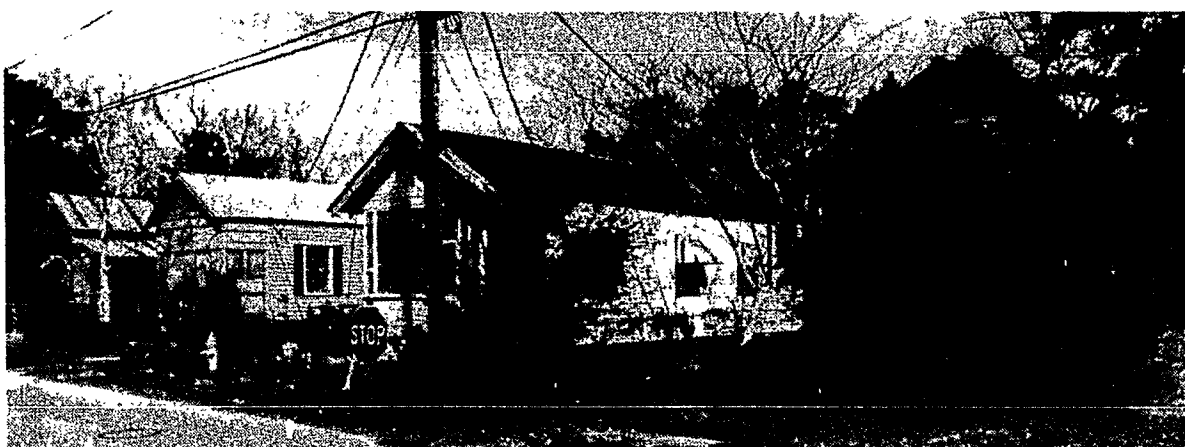

"I found a lot more than I had originally expected... (that exhibit) some quality that speaks of attention to detail, that speak to town its size.

Among the buildings noted by Wagner are:

—The home of Dr. Robert Akers, near Ballentine Street and Beach Boulevard, known as the Spanish Custom House. The home is the oldest structure in Bay St. Louis, dating from the late 1700s.

—Elmwood Plantation, at the corner of Boardman Avenue and Beach Boulevard which, architecture in Bay St. Louis, architect Fred Wagner, spouting terms like: cornice, gable, dormer, casement window and less precise phrases like: attention to detail and a sense of the life spirit in some way other than just a minimum enclosure," Wagner said.

According to the architect, Bay St. Louis has an unusually high number of architecturally interesting structures for a according to Wagner, is the "only structure in Bay St. Louis of national significance." The house, dating from 1803, is in the "federal style with Caribbean overtones."

—Swoop Manor, on Beach

Boulevard between Sycamore and Booker Streets, dating from the mid-1840s, is in the Greek Revival style. A separate kitchen and dining area is connected to the house by a walkway.

—Four row houses in the second block of Ballentine, dating from the mid-1800s, are notable according to Wagner because of their relationship to each other and because they obviously were inhabited by members of a lower social class but the presence of porches facing the street indicates a social importance in their lives.

—Main Street United Methodist Church, circa 1905-10, is in the Carpenter Gothic style. The same style can be seen throughout Mississippi, being built by traveling teams of carpenters, Wagner said.

—The W.A. McDonald house at the corner of McDonald Lane and Beach Boulevard, circa 1845-50, is "a quintessential example of a high Victorian mansion."

—Hancock Bank Building, Beach Boulevard and Main Street, dates from about 1905, and is an example of a neo-classical business building.

—Bay St. Louis City Hall, circa 1907, is in the classical revival style. It originally had a "marvelous cupola" that was destroyed in Hurricane Camille.

—A group of houses in the 300 block of Main Street, including Wagner's office and the home of Dr. Larry Heller, are typical of a working man's cottage or Creole cottage. On the outside, they remain much the same as when built, according to Wagner.

—The first house to the north of Sycamore Street on the Beach, allegedly was built at the 1885 New Orleans World Exposition, billed as "the house" for the contemporary businessman. According to the story, the house was barged to its present location after the exposition.

—The Brignac Home, 920 South Beach, is the only home in Bay St. Louis in the Prairie style inspired by Frank Lloyd Wright.

—Wagner said he regrets no Waveland structures were included in his list. Hurricane Camille had claimed all of that city's fine architecture.

Waveland City Hall is likely the only notable building in the city, he said.

YOUNG-ARTIST—Robin Williams, daughter of Robert and Forrestine Williams of Bay St. Louis, was recently selected as a featured artist at Waveland Public Library. She has studied with Carl Baldenhoffer for the past six years and works in oils, depicting landscapes, animals and still life. She is a seventh grader at Bay High School and plans to pursue a career in art. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Phillips names local scholars

Phillips Junior College of the Mississippi Gulf Coast announced its President's and Dean's Lists for the Fall Quarter which ended on Jan. 12. To be eligible for the President's List, a student must carry an academic load of at least 12 quarter hours and maintain a 4.0 grade point average.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must carry an academic load of at least 12 quarter hours and maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0.

The following students achieved these high academic honors:

PRESIDENT'S LIST
Bay St. Louis: David Dillon, Teresa Mogler, Andree Rygiel and Donna Wise.

Pass Christian: Jacqueline Fore, Karen Hansen and Kendall Ladner.

DEAN'S LIST
Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Lakeshore: John Bordages, Denise Bourg, Beverly Colwell, Salina Greco, David Jackson, Scott Ladner, Marvin Ladner Jr., Mitzi McGoe, James Miles, Jacqueline Taylor, Emma Williams, Crockett Wise and Lucette Worrel.

Pass Christian: Maria Hughes, Phillips Keith, Linda Ladner and Leroy Ladner.

Wal-Mart to offer scholarship to area senior

Officials of the Waveland Wal-Mart store have announced an area high school senior will be selected this spring as the recipient of a $1,000 Wal-Mart Foundation Community Scholarship.

The scholarship, payable over a one-year period and awarded to a college or university bound student, will be based on the student's scholastic and academic achievements, extra curricular and work activities, and financial need.

Store manager Joey Vick said, "We are very pleased to offer this annual scholarship to a deserving area student on behalf of our store and the company. Through Wal-Mart's Scholarship Program, we can contribute to the quality of life in the Hancock County area and to the opportunities of our area youth."

Vick said a team of judges, consisting of area business and community leaders, would be formed to evaluate the applications and make a final selection during student interviews.

Interested students may obtain applications from their school counselor or administrative office. Applications must be returned to the school by the third week of February.

The Waveland Wal-Mart scholarship is one of over 1,300 scholarships totalling more than $1.3 million being given by the Bentonville, Arkansas-based retail chain throughout its 27-state, 1,325-store trade territory.

Oceanographer to speak at Crosby Arboretum

Oceanographer Allen Lowrie will present "The Watery World", describing interactions of the ocean with the rest of the globe, Thursday, Feb. 8 from 7-8 p.m. at the Crosby Arboretum in Picayune.

Lowrie will explain the many layers of the ocean and their movements around the world which change with the geological conformation of the world's oceanic basins.

Oceanic movements control weather patterns, thus directly influencing the web of life on earth.

A geology graduate of Columbia University, Lowrie is an oceanographer with the U. S. Naval Oceanographic Office at Stennis Space Center. During his 27-year career, he has sailed all of the oceans and visited every continent with the exception of Antarctica.

The Arboretum office is located at 1801 Goodyear Blvd., Picayune. For information, phone 798-6961.

Selle named Key club student

St. Stanislaus sophomore Elliot Selle has been selected Key Club Outstanding Member for the Month of January.

Selle was recognized for his many contributions to the Key Club service projects, which included beach clean-up, gym painting, dances for the retarded, and bingo for the senior citizens.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Selle of Waveland. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

ELLIOT SELLE

Normand to attend Xavier ChemStar classes

Angelo Normand, a freshman at Pass Christian High School, received a $300 scholarship to attend the summer ChemStar Program at Xavier University in New Orleans.

He is the son of Joe and Sandra Normand of Pass Christian. Normand participates in the Quiz Bowl and Chess Club at Pass Christian High School, is in the band and plays football.

The ChemStar Summer Academy is a problem-solving oriented, laboratory-based introduction to chemistry. Dates are July 22 to Aug. 10.

Christenberry to lead SSC Alumni Association

Earle Christenberry, a 1945 graduate of St. Stanislaus College, has succeeded J. T. La Nasa as president of the St. Stanislaus Alumni Association. His two-year term is effective immediately.

EARLE CHRISTENBERRY

As president he will represent the more than 3,000 living alumni of St. Stanislaus throughout the world; and he will work closely with alumni director Brother Aquin Gauthier in planning and executing alumni events.

During his school days at St. Stanislaus Christenberry played the trumpet in the school band under the direction of Brother Romuald; and he was instrumental in forming the St. Stanislaus Dance Band and Orchestra. His two sons—John and Robert—are graduates of St. Stanislaus. Christenberry played a major role in helping St. Stanislaus recover in the tragic aftermath of Hurricane Camille in 1969.

In 1957 Christenberry co-founded Associated Reporters in New Orleans, a company composed of official court reporters. In 1976 he retired from civil court, and in 1982 he sold out his part of Associated Reporters. Today he is semi-retired and works in a consultative position for Associated Reporters. His main hobby these days is his "magic skills," and he has served as president of the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Gulfview Beta Club donates school supplies

Gulfview Elementary School members donated school supplies to South Carolina students whose schools were damaged or destroyed by Hurricane Hugo.

Remembering students who have experienced disaster, Beta Club members donated notebooks, paper, pens and other school supplies they felt other students would appreciate.

The Junior Beta Club is composed of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders who have a scholastic average of 'B' or better and who possess good citizenship and leadership qualities.

St. Clare teachers continue training program

Teachers at St. Clare School continue to learn new techniques and professional guidelines that will help them nurture students to a strong financial and Sister Mary Jane, principal.

To accomplish this, they will continue studies through The Master Teacher program of in-service training. The Master Teacher program has been in existence for 20 years. The program delivers volumes of new techniques, practices and food for thought to teachers each week—in a nutshell.

In the second semester, the program will focus on motivation, handling specific discipline situations and teaching for results. Teachers will be receiving the inspiration that they need to continue to do a fine job in their classrooms as well as the help they need to cope with difficult situations that so often occur at this point in the year.

The staff behind The Master Teacher program speaks to and works with more than 18,000 teachers personally every year.

ST. CLARE TEACHERS participating in The Master Teacher in-service training program are, from left, Susan Ladner, Patsy

Stop, Look Or Listen.

Before you're ready to take on the world, there's a lot of learning to be done...a lot of growing. And as every day brings a brand-new discovery: new sights, new sounds and new lessons to learn, we're working to help make the path a little easier.

Mississippi Power

We Generate Power For Living.

Former Bay resident trains in Reforger '90

The Louisiana Army National Guard's 241st Public Affairs Detachment departed New Orleans on Dec. 28 for its two-week annual training in West Germany.

Spec. Kristil L. Moon, former resident of Bay St. Louis and current resident of New Orleans, is a production controller for the Army Aviation Support Facility in New Orleans. She returned on Jan. 13.

The 241st PAD, one of several reserve forces mobilized in support of the Return of Forces to Germany (REFORGER) exercise, spent two weeks in the European theater.

REFORGER is the U.S. strategic deployment exercise directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to demonstrate U.S. resolve and ability to reinforce the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). It honors a 1967 Tripartite (U.S., U.K. and FRG) agreement and exercises strategic rapid reinforcement of Europe with active and reserve component units.

REFORGER '90 scales down field operations with reductions in personnel and tracked vehicles. Specially designed computer programs are simulating the roles to tanks and lower echelon units. These major changes fit into an overall plan to train smarter at less expense, with less interference to day-to-day activities in the host country and with less damage to the environment.

Divided into broadcast and press teams, the unit shared workspace with the 316th Air Division, public affairs office, which publishes a community newspaper for the Kaiserslautern military community.

Jennifer Otis, Chuck Delcuze, Ezekiel Davis, McGruff, Officer Philip Pavolini, Eddie Besse, Odell Davis and Margaret Delcuze, principal.

Young leaders offered training in USM residential program

The University of Southern Mississippi's Center for Gifted Studies will accept applications for its 1990 Leadership Studies Program until March 31.

The residential program, set for June 10-15 on USM's Hattiesburg campus, is designed to develop leadership skills for interested students currently in grades 6-11.

Applicants must be recommended by officials at their school with applications for the limited-enrollment program considered in the order of receipt.

Training will include written and oral communication, group dynamics, problem-solving, values clarification, planning and decision-making.

Participants will discuss avenues for becoming leaders in the school, community or church and will be exposed to speakers, community leaders and other resources.

Three courses will be offered at graduated levels, with Leadership I for new students and Leadership II and III for students who have completed prerequisite courses during previous programs.

Leadership II emphasizes the psychology of leadership, assertiveness training and situational leadership, while Leadership III focuses on the legalities and responsibilities of leadership, developing personal power and leadership for the future.

The $195 cost includes tuition, room, board, recreational activities and limited accident insurance.

For applications or information, write Dr. Frances A. Karnes, The USM Center for Gifted Studies, Southern Station Box 8207, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-8207; or call (601) 266-5236.

W-D BRAND BEEF. IT'S TRIMMER THAN EVER.
You work hard to stay in shape, so you want the food you eat to be as lean and fat-free as possible. That's why W-D Brand U.S.D.A. Choice Beef is the right choice. It's trimmed to a leaner quarter-inch. That means you get more beef for your money and less fat. When you want quality beef, pick W-D Brand Beef from WINN-DIXIE, "The Beef People.."
